RAPIDS HOUSE

TILLMAN LECTURES.

Senator Tillman Discusses the Race Problem to a Crowded and Sympathetic Audience.

The last number of the Star Course of entertainments occurred Saturday when Senator Tillman gave his famous lecture on the race question, to a crowded house. He had an exceptionally intelligent audience, which was attentive from first to last and in a responsive mood, many following his line of thought and experience and agreeing with him that there is distinctly a southern side to the race question. The fact that the Senator spoke from actual experience, made his address more interesting and real to his audience.

The dramatic element necessarily came from vivid experiences in his own life. It seemed his aim to make clear to those who have not come in contact with the "niggers," what the white man has to endure in a region where the negroes outnumber the whites.

He opened his address with a historical account of the introduction of negro slavery in the south, how our grand daddies of the north made it their business to ship large numbers of negroes into the south and sell them to the southern planter, of the recognition of slavery by the constitution of the U. S. and of the final struggle which brought on the civil war. He clearly depicted the sufferings of the southern whites during the period of reconstruction, how the carpet baggers manipulated the affairs of the southern states by corrupt aid of darkey votes and how the whites in self defense and by violent methods were obliged to rise up and throw off their yoke in order to save their property and protect their families from shame. He showed how the 14th and 15th amendments to the constitution had placed the negro with full power of the ballot, while other races far their superiors have been denied the rights of citizenship and that there could be but one result in this contest—a disastrous race warfare in which thousands of lives would again be sacrificed or the repeal of the 14th and 15th amendments, which would place the Anglo-Saxon in his true position of supremacy in governmental affairs.

Through the efforts of the management of the Star Course, the City has been treated to a fine list of entertainments which the people greatly enjoyed.

A VETERAN GUIDE.

C. E. Latimer, a veteran hunter and guide of Northern Wisconsin, was in the City Saturday. Mr. Latimer makes his headquarters at Doolittle's summer resort on the shores of Trout Lake which is located seven miles out of Woodruff. For over sixteen years he has acted as guide for tourists and sportsmen during the summer season and those who are fortunate enough to secure his services are assured of an ideal sport. He knows all of the best fishing grounds and has landed several of the biggest "muskie" ever caught in the northern lakes. He expects the coming season to be a prosperous one for his business and promises a good time to all old Rhinelander friends who should happen to come his way.

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT MASON

F. M. Mason, the present County Superintendent of Schools of Oneida County is a candidate for re-election. He has been County Superintendent since 1895 with the exception of a single term and was overwhelmingly nominated and elected again after that term. He understands the work of superintendent thoroughly and is the only candidate with any real experience in that line of work.

Aside from the mere supervision of schools which Mr. Mason knows well, there are many legal questions which the present superintendent is especially able to handle. In the last few years many of the largest district schools have become graded schools through the efforts of the superintendent and the districts got special aid from the state.

One of the indications of the work and success of a superintendent is the number of pupils who complete the common school course and go to higher institutions of learning; if this is so Mr. Mason has done as much as any County Superintendent in the state. The question lies with the voters whether they are to have an experienced man at the head of the schools or a man whose experience was back in Michigan nine years ago, with no real knowledge of the present educational conditions of Wisconsin.

BROKE WINDOWS.

Henry Rice of Woodruff is serving a thirty days sentence in the county jail. While under the influence of liquor Price became unruly and started out to do up the town. He deliberately put his feet through a couple of plate glass windows and as a result came in contact with the officers of the law. He was brought before Judge Brown in this city, plead guilty to the offense, and received the above punishment.

BUYS CHATTERTON MARKET.

L. Emmerling, the well known Rhinelander meat dealer who for twenty years has conducted a market on North Brown Street, is now the owner of two markets, having purchased the business of C. W. Chatterton last week. This has long been known as one of the leading meat markets of the City and is located at 20 South Brown Street. N. Pecore, meat cutter of many years experience has been placed in charge of the market which has recently been refitted and is now open for business. Mr. Emmerling informs us that he will keep nothing but the choicest meats and fish, both fresh and salt, and by prompt service and courteous treatment expects to retain the trade of Mr. Chatterton's patrons and secure that of many new customers as well. Mr. Emmerling's long experience in the meat business and his reputation for square dealing will mean success in his new market.

FACTS ABOUT EASTER.

Easter Sunday comes this year on March 31, and a few words of the origin may be found below:

Easter Sunday cannot come earlier than March 22, nor later than April 25, but between these two dates has a range of thirty-five days. At the Council of Nice, 325 A. D., it was agreed that from that time forward Easter should fall on the first Sunday after the full moon occurring on or after March 21, or in other words, "on the first full moon" after the sun crosses the line.

Since the above arrangement was made Easter has fallen on March 23, and on every date between that and April 25, but it is only after long intervals of time that it occurs on the extreme dates.

In 1886 Easter fell on April 25, its latest possible date, an event that will not occur again until the spring of 1943. The last time Easter fell on the earliest date was in the year 1818. This will not occur again until after this century.

GOT MONEY HERE.

A dispatch to the daily press from Washington, D. C., says that Representative Francis W. Cushman of Washington testified that the general reputation of Binger Herman for honesty and integrity was "good, very good," at the trial of the ex-commissioner of the general land office for destroying public records.

A. D. Puter, on the stand for redirect examination, was asked to explain more in detail just where he obtained the two $1,000 bills which he said he gave to the late Senator Mitchell. He said that since testifying last week he had recalled that he had made a $9,000 deal in November, 1901, and had received from Charles Chafee president of the First National bank of Rhinelander, Wis., a draft for that amount. This he cashed in the First National bank of Milwaukee in December, and then went across the street to the Wisconsin National bank and got the $1,000 notes in question.

Objection by Atty. Worthington prevented the government from putting in evidence an alleged memorandum of the presentation of the $2,000 to Mitchell made by Puter shortly after that time.

FINED FOR KILLING DEER.

"Little Pat," the notorious red skin, who has his wigwam near Tripps, was again in trouble last Thursday. This time Pat was fined $25.00 and costs by Judge Browne for killing a deer out of season. He was arrested by Game Wardens Oberholtzer and Berg. Pat had the deer in his possession at the time and was what might be properly termed "caught with the goods on." In spite of this fact, however, the Indian made a strenuous attempt to deny his guilt declaring that the deer had been killed by dogs. This statement was a trifle more than the wardens could swallow and a careful examination of the carcass revealed plainly the holes where the bullets had accomplished their work.

SENATOR WANTED YANKEE DOODLE

The Rhinelander Military band under the leadership of Grant White furnished music in the Grand Opera House before the Tillman lecture last Saturday evening. Senator Tillman was greatly pleased with the quality of the music and just before he commenced his lecture some member of the band asked him if he thought they would have time to render another selection. "Yes," answered the Senator leaning forward and in a voice not audible to the audience "Give us another, play Yankee Doodle."

MARTIN LALLY INJURED.

Martin Lally, yard foreman for the Rhinelander Paper Company, is suffering from a broken shoulder blade as the outcome of an accident which he met with Monday afternoon. Mr. Lally was directing the unloading of a car load of pulp wood and was within a short distance from the car when in the act of adjusting one of the sticks on the railway he was struck with great force by a log which was rolled from the car. The injury will lay him up for some time.

Accompanying this article are pictures of four Easter eggs. No. 1 shows the pretty effect of a cabbage rose. This is obtained by painting the surface of the egg to represent the closely folded petals of a rich red rose and fastening about its lower end a bunch of green tissue paper leaves, the long points being wired to hold them in place about the egg. Such eggs are unique and pretty to adorn the breakfast table Easter morning, placing one on the folded white napkin at each place. No. 2 shows an egg representing our idea of a "cranky" Aunt Nan, long-faced and of sour mien. A bit of white lawn, closely folded to fit the egg, forms her cap. A large potato may be cut to answer for a shoulder block, into which the lower end of the egg fits. This potato foundation must also be covered with white lawn. The features are drawn in, first, very carefully with the pencil, then painted with water colors.

No. 3 is the head of a jolly "chap-ple," whose hat may be of straw or made of platted tissue paper. The collar is cut from ordinary white note-paper and a bit of black or gay ribbon forms the necktie. This style of Easter egg may be made most laughable by painting the nose—at the end—very red, the lips a bright pink, the cheeks a trifle paler than the lips, the eyes a twinkling black and the hair a color usually known as "sandy."

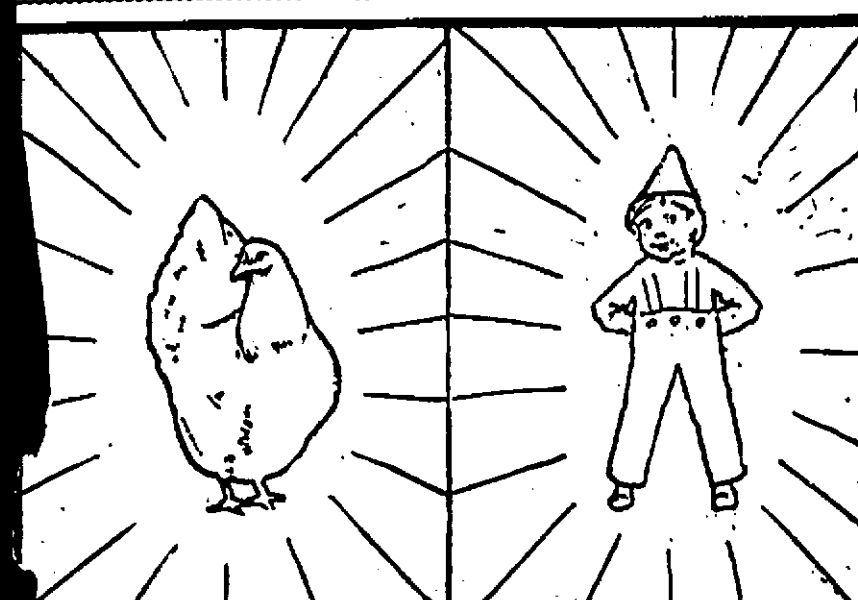

No. 4 gives the Easter egg in the form of a very fat baby's face looking from the full ruffles of a hood. The egg is turned small end up, so as to give all the roundness to the double chin and fat cheeks. Paint with water colors the eyes—wide open—a baby blue, the cheeks and chin delicate pink and the hair flaxen. Pick out long lashes about the wide-open eyes with a black lead pencil.

There are for sale in the shops all sorts of china, wooden and glass eggs for Easter, but these never give the satisfaction to the little ones that "real, sure-enough eggs" do. Turkey and duck eggs are in much demand for Easter, owing to their enormous size. The writer recently saw

The turkey egg that had painted on its shell an Easter picture containing church, with steeple and bell, a number of pretty children in white dresses, adults in more sober apparel in the foreground and a restful village in the background. This work of art was done by a little girl of 12, who had an eye for color and a clever hand to execute. A duck's egg was made, by the same girl, to resemble the head of a rabbit, with its long ears of white paper softly tinted with water colors.

A most unique Easter egg greeting was planned by a little boy, who, doubtless, possessed very original ideas, with the ability to carry them

To reproduce the pictures upon eggs first cut out the square and make as indicated by the radiating lines. Take a pin and after laying the picture on cloth or other soft surface, prick the outlines of the drawing. Lay the paper upon a hard boiled egg tightly. The slits will enable you to fit the paper to the egg. Take a brush with ink or a piece of cloth wet with ink and tint over the holes. If carefully done the picture will be seen perfectly reproduced upon the egg when the paper is removed.

WHERE LINEN IS MADE

Belfast the Center of the World.

There is nothing prettier than a field of Irish flax in full bloom. The stems are about 30 inches high, says a writer in Truth. They are very slender and of a pale green.

On each stem is a flower in an exquisite tone of blue; something between a cornflower and a forget-me-not. The little flower is not of a very robust constitution. The petals soon fall, and then a seed pod forms which, when given time to do so, produces quantities of what we call linseed ("lin" is the Celtic name for flax). But when the flax is grown for the manufacture of linen it is pulled up before the seed has had time to mature.

After having been exposed to the air for a few days the flax is laid in water, and during the fortnight that this process lasts the odious smell with which it fills the air is of a remarkably powerful character.

As the local guides say: "Shure it's just the flax fermentin'." It's a powerful smell entirely, but there's no danger in it, glory be to God.

The soaking makes it easy to separate the straw from the fibre by bruising it between rollers and then suspending it through an opening in the top of a machine in which a horizontal shaft with wooden blades revolves at the rate of 250 times a minute. Parted forever are the fibre, flax and the straw, now low.

Next comes the spinning into yarn, done in immense mills, and after that the yarn is woven into the fabric itself. Finally comes the bleaching, when the linen is laid out on the green field to be whitened by rain and sun and wind.

These long strips of snow whiteness on the green turf surprise the stranger. He thinks it some sort of top dressing, spread upon the land to fertilize it. Belfast is the center of the linen trade.

Puzzled the Post Office.

The postal authorities of Rhode Island were puzzled a few weeks ago and being unable to find a solution for the case sent the matter to Washington, where it is still pending. Zeke Bradford Peterson, of the town of Rehoboth, Rhode Island, wanted to move his hen coop to another town, about ten miles distant.

Having received a goodly price from a recent sale of farm products, he purchased $5 worth of five-cent stamps which he placed on the sides of the hen coop. When the collector came along he found the stamp-covered coop in front of a box, addressed. The wooden structure would not fit into his team. He was at a loss of what action to take so he returned to the village.

The postmistress wired to one of the cities but they could not find a solution for the difficulty.

A message was sent to Washington asking for advice, but no one there seemed to know, while Peterson went into the village and wanted to know "if this was a free country or not," and "what was the matter with the postal system."

The Servant Problem.

A Washington man was telling some one of the trials of his wife, an excellent housekeeper, with reference to the servant problem. Just about the time the mistress would get a new girl broken to the ways of the household and he would bid fair to become a model servant, she would decamp or enter the service of a neighbor.

One of these, a Mrs. B., had incurred the especial enmity of the first woman, for she had lately taken two servants from Mrs. Brown. One night in the winter Brown was aroused from his slumbers by queer sounds in the kitchen.

"Burglars!" he hoarsely whispered in the ear of his spouse, as he prepared to tumble out of bed and proceed downstairs.

"Edward," calmly observed the wife, "I'd give anything to possess your optimistic nature. Always looking on the bright side. I'll wager anything it's that odious Mrs. B.—woman trying to get Mary away from me!"

What to Do After Eating.

Should one lie down after meals, and, if so, should one sleep? Dr. Schule, an assistant of Baumbler at Freiberg, has analyzed the contents of the stomachs of two normal subjects removed several hours after an identical test meal of bread and distilled water, followed in one instance by sleep, in the other by simple rest in a horizontal position, says the London Post. Schule shows that sleep during digestion always results in weakening the motility of the stomach and increasing the acidity of the gastric juice, a fact attributed by him to the irritation caused by the chyme's remaining abnormally long in the stomach. He has also remarked that simple repose in a horizontal position, not accompanied by sleep, stimulates the gastric function without increasing the acidity.

Go Slow Young Men.

Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia, advises students against deciding upon a vocation too soon. According to Dr. Butler, a man should not go to college with any settled convictions as to what he is to do. Dr. Butler holds that college is the place to make such a decision. The opportunities there are so many and varied that, according to the president, every man ought to find something to suit him. He implies that by the end of his senior year a man ought to have acquired enough knowledge to enable him to determine his right vocation.

Changed His Tune.

"My dear," murmured the sick man to his wife, "I am nearing the golden streets. I hear strains of sweetest music, unearthly in its beauty. I—" "John," said his wife, "what you hear is a phonograph in the next flat."

"So it is. Darn those people, anyhow. No consideration for their neighbors. Go and tell 'em to stop that infernal racket at once."

THREE BOYS HAD ECZEMA.

Were Treated at Dispensary—Did Not Improve—Suffered Five Months—Perfect Cure by Cuticura.

"My three children had eczema for five months. A little sore would appear on the head and seemed very itchy, increasing day after day. The baby had had it about a week when the second boy took the disease and a few sores developed, then the third boy took it. For the first three months I took them to the N— Dispensary, but they did not seem to improve. Then I used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment and in a few weeks they had improved, and when their heads were well you could see nothing of the sores. Secret of Japan's Success.

Gen. Sir Ian Hamilton of the British army wrote the evening after one of the great battles which he had witnessed between Russians and Japanese in the recent war in Manchuria: "To bed! Although it is with reluctance that I prepare to lose my grip of the exciting consciousness that I have to-day seen the most stupendous spectacle that it is possible for mortal brain to conceive—Asia advancing, Europe falling back; the wall of mist and the writing thereon." Then as to the meaning of this retreat of Europe before advancing Asia: "The more I think the more certain I am that it was not strategy or tactics, or armament or information, which won the battle of Liaoyang for Oyama, but that it was rather the souls of the Japanese troops which triumphed over the less developed, less awakened, less stimulated qualities of the Russians."

The poor guarantors of the Star Lecture Course! Next year the executive committee will systematize the handling of the funds and not let a scapegoat carry them away.

A vote for Henry Scudder of Marinette for Justice of the Supreme Bench, is a vote for an honest, upright, broad minded man whose opinions will not be based upon factionalism and who is not a politician.

Justice Marshall's lieutenants are sending out appeals on account of his political affiliation; this alone should defeat him. The supreme bench is supposed to be non-partisan.

Although this is a spring election and all candidates are running on a non-partisan ticket, yet in a few instances things are warming up well for next Tuesday's election. There are three candidates for Municipal Judge, any one of whom is well equipped for the office. We are fortunate in having three competent men on the ticket.

There are also three candidates for County Superintendent of Schools and all are looking after their individual interests. The claims of each one are put forth in other parts of this paper.

The city offices in several instances have but a single candidate, in others there are good natured lively contests more by friends of the candidates than the candidates themselves. In the First ward there are three men for Alderman and two for Supervisor; in the Second ward two for Supervisor; in the Third ward no contest; in the Fourth ward two for Supervisor; in the Fifth ward no contest. Look at city ticket on the last page for names of candidates.

RHINELANDER GULLED AGAIN.

Messrs. O'Keefe and Schnelle who recently drilled our young people for the play, "An Irish Aristocrat," are wanted in this City for borrowing a type-writer and putting it up for back board on leaving the City. It is another case of the people being gulled by entire strangers. P. T. Barnum said "The American people like humbugging." We have frequent evidence of it in Rhinelander, but strangers are usually the experts. The sheriff is now after the young men whose every move here was to get the best of the people and they succeeded quite well. Who will be the next stranger to do us up.

LETTER TO MR. JAMES BLACKMER, Rhinelander, Wis.

Dear Sir: You ask how many square feet a gallon will cover. Depends on condition of building.

There is a great deal of lying on this point. The stock claim of laying paints is 300 square feet, two coats. It's a lie, as a rule.

Devco covers 300 to 500, our agents think. We think 300 too low and 500 too high; though doubtless, they both occur.

How much the other paints cover is equally doubtful; we guess 100 to 400. The truth is found in another comparison. Devco is all paint, true paint, strong paint, and full-measure; the others in general are, at the best, diluted, adulterated and short-measure. They cover according to body and measure. You can't paint with clay lime chalk sand barytes water or air—no body in them. Go by Devco.

Yours truly

BIRTHS.

Mr and Mrs Pete Peterson are the proud parents of a baby boy.

A son was born Monday to Mr. and Mrs. Emil Gilmore who are residents of the town of Pelican.

A daughter was born, Tuesday, to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rinka.

Set the bells to ringing and fire off your guns.

Blow your trumpets inside out.

And bang your biggest drums.

If anyone should ask you the cause of all this joy.

Tell them Elmer Danfield has been made "papa" to a bouncing baby boy.

RESUME OF THAW TRIAL

District Attorney Jerome presented to Justice Fitzgerald eight affidavits in support of the suggestion he made in the case of Harry K. Thaw, that the defendant is now in such a state of lunacy or insanity as to be incapable of understanding the proceedings against him or making his defense. Justice Fitzgerald allowed both sides until Saturday afternoon at two o'clock to file such affidavits as they desire with the clerk of the court.

District Attorney Jerome appealed to the court to stop the Thaw trial, declaring Thaw was insane and incapable of directing his counsel. The jury was excused for two days while the court inquired into Thaw's mental condition and decided whether or not to appoint a commission in lunacy.

In the Thaw trial the case for the people was closed by the introduction of the Hummel affidavit, in which Evelyn Nesbit accused Thaw of repeatedly stripping and lashing her brutally when they were in Europe together. According to Hummel, Mrs. Nesbit also swore she would not sign statements which Thaw had prepared accusing Stanford White of having drugged and ruined her.

A schoolmate of Harry K. Thaw's in Worcester (O.) University has made a statement denying the stories of Thaw's wild life in that institution.

Reports that Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw has collapsed and that she hummel faces prosecution for perjury as a result of his testimony about the affidavit accusing Harry Thaw of cruelty toward Evelyn, were prevalent. The closing of the case for the defense was delayed a day. Thaw sent $100 to the flood sufferers at Pittsburgh.

DECLARE THAW INSANE

AFFIDAVITS OF SEVEN EXPERTS
PRESENTED BY JEROME.

ONE BY NEWSPAPER MAN

Tells of Defendant's Manner of Issuing His Statement—Whole Matter Postponed Until Saturday Afternoon.

New York.—District Attorney Jerome Thursday presented to Justice Fitzgerald eight affidavits in support of the suggestion he made Wednesday in the case of Harry K. Thaw, that the defendant is now in such a state of lunacy or insanity as to be incapable of understanding the proceedings against him or making his defense.

The court was in session for less than an hour, Delphin Delmas, for the defense, stating that their answer to the district attorney's proposition was not ready. Justice Fitzgerald allowed both sides until Saturday afternoon at two o'clock to file such affidavits as they desire with the clerk of the court. There will be no further hearing in the matter of the appointment of a lunacy commission unless Justice Fitzgerald so directs after considering such affidavits and exhibits as are to be offered.

Neither the jury nor Thaw was in court Thursday. The jury having been excused until Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock, there will be a brief session at that time and a formal adjournment until Monday morning announced. By Monday Justice Fitzgerald is expected to be ready to announce his decision.

Mr. Jerome's affidavits submitted Thursday embraced the opinion of his seven experts who have heretofore testified, and a statement by Irvin S. Cobb, a newspaper reporter, who gave the text of the statement which Thaw issued at the conclusion of Mr. Jerome's long and severe cross-examination of his wife.

District Attorney Jerome occupied most of the time the court was in session in a personal explanation of the reasons which had hindered him from earlier calling the attention of the court to Thaw's present state of mind. He said he had long been convinced that the defendant was of unsound mind, but he had no way of proving it until Dr. Hamilton was put upon the stand by the defense.

ASK THE PASTOR TO RESIGN.

Parishioners of St. Paul's Church, Wausau, End Trouble.

Wausau.—The closing chapter in the recent riot at St. Paul's church in this city came at a business meeting of the members of the congregation. By a vote of 134 to 90 the action of the trustees in dismissing the school teacher, Hans Herfurth, was sustained. A motion requesting the pastor, the Rev. Frederick Schaefer, to resign was carried by a vote of 114 to 100. The adoption of this resolution was a surprise to the friends of the pastor, as it was understood he had expressed a determination to resign as soon as the recent difficulties had subsided.

Under the terms of the contract with the church the pastor has two months' notice before the resignation can be demanded or become effective.

The members of the congregation became divided upon the question of dismissing the school teacher and finally came to blows, the pastor and several others being quite badly injured.

Report Unjust to Dead Man.

Monroe.—A dispatch from Pierre, S. D., telling of the suicide of Gottfried Schmidt, brother of the members of the firm of Schmidt Bros. of this city, does an injustice to the dead man, according to relatives, in stating he had stolen $60 from a saloonkeeper shortly before he made away with himself.

Adolf Schmidt of Monroe went to Pierre immediately on receipt of news of his brother's death. He met the saloonkeeper in question and talked with him on two or three different occasions, and with others also, in regard to Gottfried's suicide. It is no wonder my kidneys gave out and I went all to pieces at last. For five years I was fading away and finally so weak that for six months I could not get out of the house. I was nervous, restless and sleepless at night, and lame and sore in the morning. Sometimes everything would whirl and blur before me. I bloated so badly I could not wear tight clothing, and had to put on shoes two sizes larger than usual. The urine was disordered and passages were dreadfully frequent. I got help from the first box of Doan's Kidney Pills, however, and by the time I had taken four boxes the pain and bloating were gone. I have been in good health ever since."

Year's Cigarette Output.

The cigarette output of 4,368,723,015 in the calendar year of 1906 must have come as a surprise to the bulk of the trade, but more stunning yet its increase in one year of $42,540,425, an increase by nearly 300,000,000 larger than the increase of our cigar industry during the same year. This jump is the more remarkable in the face of the pronounced and unrelenting hostility of a half dozen state legislatures which have ostracized not only the manufacture but also the handling and consumption of cigarettes within the confines of their respective territories.—United States Tobacco Journal.

Stood the Test.

Allcock's Plasters have successfully stood the test of sixty years' use by the public; their virtues have never been equalled by the unscrupulous imitators who have sought to trade upon their reputation by making plasters with holes in them, and claiming them to be "just as good as Allcock's."

State Capital Notes

Weekly Budget Gathered by Our Special Correspondent at Madison.

Madison. — A general agreement seems to have been reached among the various senatorial candidates and their supporters to have the election of the United States senator begin April 10. Isaac Stephenson said that was his understanding and that the plan was agreeable to him. It is expected that the senate judiciary committee will, before the Easter recess, take action toward setting that date. The Easter recess begins March 28 and lasts till April 8, and it is probable that the caucus will be held in time to settle the contest before the recess begins, as sentiment seems to be crystallizing on the advisability of settling the suspense soon. Even the candidates are wearying of the fight and little attempt at proselyting now is done, although all the candidates are still on the ground and receiving callers and giving out roseate reports. It is thought that many of the members do not approve of a limited caucus.

Bills Are Opposed.

For more than two hours Dr. F. W. Fricke, of New York, formerly insurance commissioner of Wisconsin and now special legislative representative of the Northwestern Mutual Life company of Milwaukee, addressed the joint legislative committee on banks and insurance in opposition to the 24 bills introduced in the legislature embodying the recommendations of the legislative insurance investigation committee. Mr. Fricke at first made a general attack on all of the bills, and later took several of them up in detail and figuratively tore them to shreds.

He particularly opposed the bills which propose to limit the amount of "loading" for expenses or the proportion of the premium charged that may be used for expenses. He also attacked the bills requiring insurance companies to make certain deposits with the state to safeguard the interests of their policy holders in Wisconsin.

Dr. Fricke declared that one of the bills, if passed, would completely disorganize the agency force of the Northwestern and cause the company no end of trouble and expense. He believed that most of the reforms sought to be accomplished could be better secured by making some amendments to existing laws, and he proposed one relating to the valuation of policies.

Greater benefit to the policy holders would be attained he said, if the heavy state tax on life insurance companies were reduced or abolished and the companies permitted to refund the money thus expended to their policy holders.

Prof. J. W. Glover of Michigan University.

The actuary who assisted the legislative investigation committee last summer, has been employed to help the joint committee now sitting and was present at the hearing.

No Auction on Capitol Bids.

The Wisconsin capitol commission held a meeting to consider the question of awarding contracts for the erection of the west wing of the new state house. All of the bids were carefully canvassed and tabulated, but no action was taken on any of them. In addition to the bids submitted several weeks ago the commission has received several more. One of the latter is from W. A. Amberg of the Amberg Granite company, which has quarries in Marinette county and wants to furnish the granite for the foundation walls of the new building. The commission will take some action on the bids at once. The bill directing that the new capitol shall be constructed of marble or granite or both, has been passed by the legislature and the commission is now in a position to proceed with the erection of the building.

More Money for Attorney General.

Assemblyman George P. Grassie, of Milwaukee, appeared before the assembly committee on judiciary and made an argument in favor of a resolution which he introduced, providing for a constitutional amendment increasing the salary of the attorney general of the state from $2,000 to $10,000 a year, and the length of his term of office from two to ten years. He asserted that the office of attorney general was one of the most important in the state and should be filled by the best lawyer that could be induced to accept it. He cited from the secretary of state's records to show that the state paid $168,154 for legal services during the last ten years, and only $74,422 of the amount went to the attorney general and his assistants.

Prepare New Bill at Once.

As soon as it became known that the supreme court had declared the Milwaukee school board law unconstitutional Superintendent C. G. Pearse, of the Cream City schools and Secretary Frank Harbach of the defunct school board, who happened to be in Madison, immediately began to discuss the situation with the Milwaukee members in the legislature and it was the general sentiment that a bill should be introduced as soon as possible providing for a school board to be elected by the council.

To Report District Option.

The assembly committee on state affairs decided to favorably report the Baker bill providing for district option in residential sections of cities. The bill is a modification of the Thayer measure of two years ago. It exempts any block where one-third or more of the ground floor space of buildings facing the street is devoted to business purposes. The committee also decided to favorably report the Gothenburg bill, authorizing municipalities to sell entire saloons privately to one person or corporation.

Senatorship Fight Warm.

After two weeks' work the senatorship is in fact no nearer being settled than it was the hour when Senator Spooner's resignation became known. There are five candidates in the field besides a number of possibilities. It is true, and work has been done, the legislature canvassed, each member and every man interested carrying a check list, headquarters have been established and camps organized, but so far as definite results are concerned, any prediction as to choice of the legislature is mere guess work, and one guess is just about as correct as another. In addition to this, talk of combinations and the possibility of making them represents mispent effort, for this has been tried and found impossible.

La Follette, says a correspondent, may be able to bring a combination about which, without settling the senatorship as between the candidates now in the field, may, however, so mass his followers into one camp, that it will be within the power of these men to control the situation. There is some evidence in expressions heard to sustain this view. The attempt will be made, many believe, to gather in all the possible La Follette votes into a general conference and then agree upon a program of action, leaving the election of a senator, as applied to any particular candidate in the ultra La Follette list, to future developments.

Christian Scientists Active.

Many petitions have been introduced protesting against the passage of the medical practice bill which hit Christian Scientists. Practically every senator present sent one or more of these documents to the clerk's desk representing many towns, villages, and cities of the state.

Assemblyman T. M. Thomas of Ladysmith introduced a joint resolution in the lower house providing for an Easter adjournment of the legislature on March 28 to nine o'clock at night on April 8. The resolution was laid over under the rules. It will probably be adopted.

Primary Election Law.

Two bills making important changes in the primary election law were recommended for passage in the assembly. One provides that the political party committees of Milwaukee shall be elected by the candidates for the various city offices nominated by each political party at the primaries and the city officers elected by popular vote whose terms of office extend beyond May 1 of the year in which the primaries are held. The other bill provides that nomination papers shall not be circulated prior to 60 days before the date at which such papers must be filed.

Provide for Long Recess.

After considerable discussion the assembly adopted the Thomas resolution providing for an Easter and election day adjournment from noon on Thursday, March 28 to nine o'clock at night on April 8. Assemblyman E. A. Everett, of Eagle River, wanted the resolution amended so as to provide for adjournment from March 28 to April 3, but the amendment was rejected by a vote of 50 to 25. The resolution in its original form was adopted by a vote of 55 to 30.

Scolded Out for Senator.

Former Gov. Edward Scofield, of Oconto, twice governor and defeated for the third nomination by La Follette, announced his candidacy for United States senator in place of John C. Spooner, making the sixth candidate openly in the race for the place. Mr. Scofield in coming out is thought to be seeking revenge on Isaac Stephenson, whom he blames for his defeat in 1900 by La Follette. Stephenson and Scofield are from adjoining counties.

Oppose Sheridan Drive Bill.

Owing to the opposition that has developed through Racine and Kenosha counties to the Sheridan drive bill, introduced by Senator Fairchild of Milwaukee, upon motion of Senator Bishop consideration of the measure was postponed for one week. Senator Bishop stated that many of his constituents had protested against the bill, and notwithstanding that the bill was reported for advancement, the request of the senator was granted without opposition.

Money for Chaplains.

A bill introduced by Assemblyman W. A. Kay, of Spring Valley, was passed appropriating three dollars a day for ministers who officiate as chaplains of the legislature during the session.

Opposes Teachers' Pension Bill.

School Director T. J. Neary, after studying it in its revised form, continues his opposition to the teachers' pension bill and hopes to defeat it in the legislature. He declared that so long as the teachers system on forced contributions from the taxpayers and while barracks were still made to do duty as schoolhouses in Milwaukee and it was the general sentiment that a bill should be introduced as soon as possible providing for a school board to be elected by the council.

Fear Lets Out Employes.

Secretary of State Fear relieved Jacob H. Healey of his position as chief bookkeeper in the state department and asked the state civil service commission for a noncompetitive examination for the promotion of one of the assistant bookkeepers to the place. The secretary said that he relieved Mr. Healey for the good of the service. He said that he gave Mr. Healey a letter setting forth his specific reasons for his action.

All the superstructure not necessarily of steel will be of concrete and this same material will extend for six inches below the water line.

Fashionable Bodices for Wear at Evening Parties

For theater wear this spring there are lovely new models in bodices that, like those of the past winter, must show some connecting link between them and the suit in touches of the cloth or silk of which the suit is built. Some of them have the Dutch neck, but as these necessarily demand a scarf of some sort for the street, this neck is rather more popular for reception or evening theater frocks.

Let us with devoutness hope that the revival of this Dutch neck will be restrained to the home, where only has it any place. It won't be, you know. We'll see it frequently on the street with a necklace of "pearls" so large that no one but an American duchess could possess them. At least, let's not any of us be transgressors!

Here are drawings of four especially nice bodices, all of which have pale-tinted cloths in their make-up, and over which are to be put the short-waisted jackets that are seen in the spring model suits to complete the toilet.

WAIST OF WHITE FAILE.

Pretty blouse of white faille, made with narrow box plait, which are ornamented with fagoting. Four plaits in the center extend the entire length of the blouse; the others open out over the bust.

The sleeves are made and trimmed to correspond.

IN BRAID-TRIMMED WAISTS.

Designs Give Ample Scope for Elaborate Ornamentation.

Some of the braid-trimmed waists are wonderfully fetching, and give ample scope for extravagant elaboration, with simple lines. For example, there is a stunning model in an up-town shop which would directly come under that observation, says the New York Evening Post. It is of deep, creamy white, with the shoulders laid in six tiny tucks, each tuck some five inches long. Through the center there runs a three-inch box-plait, which is slashed at intervals for the passage of a soft taffeta tie. At either side and extending slightly over the shoulders are bretelles of the waist fabric, back and front, which are shaped to the waist and are tucked smoothly in the girdle. Around the base of the collar, down the sides of the front plait and outlining the bretelles, is a half-inch fancy braid of loose mesh which is laid over dark blue silk, matching that of the tie and the girdle. The sleeves are laid in several very straight little gathers at the shoulders, and again at the tops of the cuffs which, coming just below the elbow, give the three-quarter effect to the sleeves.

There is more or less comment among leading modistes, and perhaps particularly among the retail shops, as to the position the waist silk waist will have in the spring list. Some really beautiful designs are shown and equally pleasing models, but for some unaccountable reason the American woman does not seem to take kindly to the wash silk blouse. It seems to be a golden mean between the severe, tailored linen and the soft lingerie, and my lady prefers the severity of the one or the extreme daintiness of the other, with no happy medium of the silk blouse order.

Little Hats Are Popular.

Toques and turbans and well-fitting small hats that, with all their smallness, are a far cry from the tiny, tilted things that took us so long to forget used to, are all in high favor for morning wear. And certain adaptations of the sailor's hat plaid that have taken the world of fashion by storm—make mighty trig finishes to a smart walking suit.

Mushroom shapes are in, but will probably only last a short while, although the drooping brim introduced has found its way to many another radically different "creation."

Of Chinese edible birds' nests it takes 50 to weigh a pound.

GREATEST DAY IN YEAR.

Reasons Why Easter Should Be Remembered with Gladness.

In very early times Easter was always spoken of as the "great day," and such it surely is—the very greatest day in the year's calendar—a day that brings with it eternal hope to the sorrowful, a blessed peace to all mankind and crowns the glad springtime with the promise of life everlasting. Not for 13 years has Easter come so early as this season.

Perhaps some of the department readers will be glad to preserve the table given below, showing the date Easter will come on for the next four years. Calculations for Easter bonnets may thus be made some time in advance: 1908, April 19; 1909, April 11; 1910, March 27; 1911, April 16.

Easter Breakfasts.

The custom of entertaining at Easter is becoming very popular, especially after early church, the repast being finished by 11 o'clock for the benefit of the guests who wish to go to that service, it being a foregone conclusion that every one attends some church on this special Sunday for reasons both temporal and spiritual. It is quite the proper thing to do, and so-called "society" is always well represented. At this 9 o'clock breakfast the hostess has an opportunity of serving some delicious egg dishes, with a centerpiece appropriate to the occasion, and beautiful spring

Hunting the nest of the Easter rabbit is looked forward to in Germany by the children with the same eagerness as our little ones hang up their stockings at Christmas.

While the chicken shares the honors with the rabbit, it is always the latter who sits on the nest for which the children hunt with such avidity. The parents hide this nest with great care, so often the entire morning is consumed before it is discovered with the treasure of eggs, each containing a gift. Some of the eggs are made of cotton; others are the real shells carefully emptied of their contents.

GATHERED SMILES

THE ANGEL CHILD.

A certain fond mother was horrified not long ago when a parrot—fully guaranteed by the dealer from whom it was purchased—began to swear vigorously in the presence of several callers and her young son.

The bird's vocabulary increased to a remarkable extent, both in amount and force, within the next week or so, and the lady had come to the conclusion that for the sake of her son's morals she must get rid of it, although it afforded the entire household no little amusement in its more quiet moments, when one day she quietly entered the room where the cage hung. Perched upon a chair was Johnny, and there was being executed an astonishing duet of profanity.

"Oh, Johnny, are you teaching Poll to swear?" the mother gasped. For an instant only Johnny was panic-stricken, and then assumed an expression of saintly patience. "No, no, mother," he asserted in a hurt tone. "I was just tellin' it all the awful things it mustn't say." "Mamma's darling boy!" she exclaimed, and gathered him into her arms.—N. Y. Times.

As Others See Us.

"And do the Americans shine in their conversation?" asks the interviewer of the foreigner who has returned to his native land. "Let me tell you," replies the foreigner. "In mixed company the ladies assemble on one side of the room and all talk at once about cooks and dresses, and the men assemble at the other side of the room and talk about automobiles and money."—Life.

And he took the hint and they started for the nearest drug store.—Judge.

The Modern Shylack.

Notice of Election

To the Electors of the City of Rhinelander:

Notice is hereby given that a Judicial and City election is to be held in the several wards and election predicts in the City of Rhinelander, on the 2nd day of April, 1907, at which the officers named below are to be chosen. The names of the candidates for the office to be voted for, whose nominations have been certified to this office, are given opposite the title of the office and under the appropriate party or other designation, each in its proper column, and the question submitted to a vote is stated below.

INFORMATION TO VOTERS.

The following instructions are given for the information and guidance of voters: A voter upon entering the polling place and giving his name and residence, will receive a ballot from the ballot clerk which must have endorsed thereon the name or initials of both ballot clerks, and no other ballot can be used. Upon receiving his ballot, the voter must retire alone to a booth or compartment and prepare the same for voting. A ballot clerk may inform the voter as to the proper manner of marking a ballot, but he must not advise or indicate in any manner whom to vote for. The voter should make a cross-mark within the space in which the name is printed. If he wishes to vote for a person whose name is not on the ballot, he must write the name in the blank space under the printed name of the candidate for the office. The ballot should not be marked in any other manner. If the ballot be spoilt it must be returned to the ballot clerk, who must issue another in its stead, but not more than three in all to any one voter. Five minutes' time is allowed in booth to mark ballot.

Unofficial ballots or memorandums to assist the voter in marking his ballot can be taken into the booth, and may be used to copy from. The ballot must not be shown so that any person can see how it has been marked by the voter. After it is marked it should be folded so that the inside cannot be seen, but so that the printed endorsements and signatures of the ballot clerks on the outside may be seen. Then the voter should pass out of the booth or compartment, give his name to the inspector in charge of the ballot box, hand him his ballot to be placed in the box, and pass out of the voting place. A voter who declares to the presiding officer that he is unable to read, or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot can have assistance of one or two election officers. In marking the same, to be chosen by the voter; and if he declares that he is totally blind, he may be assisted by any person chosen by him from among the legal voters of the county. The presiding officer may administer an oath in his discretion, as to such person's disability. The designations and candidates for the offices are as follows:

HELLEN B. MERRIFIELD

Candidate for County Superintendent of Schools.

The schools of Oneida county are behind the times. The other counties are progressing in this work, why not Oneida? The children are just as worthy an education: the parents are just as anxious for them to have these advantages.

The schools have been neglected.
They need a change of supervision.
Will you help to make this change?
Please notice the qualifications of the new candidates.

Miss Merrifield is a graduate of the full normal course: Mr. Orr is simply a graduate of the elementary certificate course.

She has been in active school work for the last thirteen years; he has been in other business for the last nine years.

She has taught all this time in the schools of Wisconsin and knows their needs: he taught in Michigan.

She has a life certificate: he has a

Consider these qualifications, give Miss Merrifield your vote, she will improve your schools.

TILLMAN WAS IN TIGHT PLACE.

Frank Bryant as we all know, is an extraordinarily big man, and so is Senator Ben. Tillman of South Carolina, and when these two giants met in the narrow passageway of a Pullman sleeping car, they experienced no little difficulty in passing each other.
Frank had escorted a friend to the train and had occasion to go in the car with him. After farewells had been said Frank started to leave the car and when half way down the aisle confronted the massive form of Senator Tillman. Both Frank and the Senator realized at a glance the difficulties of the proposition before them and laughingly the Senator remarked, "I don't see how two big bruisers like us are ever going to pass in this car." Endeavor as they would the two men could make no progress forward and after several attempts when Frank felt as though he had been squeezed through a rat hole it was necessary for him and the Senator to move to a compartment near the end of the car where they found plenty of room in which to pass. "Truly," said the Pitchfork Senator upon whose face the perspiration showed in generous beads,
"that was one of the tightest places I have ever been in," and Frank, who was barely able to reach the car door as the train was pulling out, didn't doubt him in the least.

Do Not Crowd the Season.

The first warm days of Spring bring with them a desire to get out and enjoy the exhilarating air and sunshine. Children that have been housed up all winter are brought out and you wonder where they all came from. The heavy winter clothing is thrown aside and many shed their flannels. Then a cold wave comes and people say that grip is epidemic.
Colds at this season are even more dangerous than in mid-winter, as there is much more danger of pneumonia. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, however, and you will have nothing to fear. It always cures, and we have never known a cold to result in pneumonia when it was used. It is pleasant and safe to take. Children like it. For sale by
